

Tuesday, October 10th 10am

When he woke up in a dark room in a dirty mattress near his little brother John, Oliver who was fourteen years old had no idea of what happened the day before, he does not know why he wake up in this dirty room which he didn't know.

When he got all his mind he remembers all the things he did the day before.

After class the day before.

When he way home from school accompanied by his little brother, who was nine years old, a car was followed them slowly behind and the glass was dark and they could not see the driver's face or his passenger.

Oliver was very anxious and could not show it to his brother not to worry him and did not tell that a car was following them. The two boys were not far from home so Oliver suggests to his brother to run home. The car suddently went away and Oliver thought that those men had understood that they were unmasked and away. When the boys entered the last street which they had to cut through Oliver saw an identical car park and he did not see anybody inside. He thought that it was a new car bought by his neighbour. The road was deserted when the boys saw a man lock the way. That man had a smile which froze the blood. Oliver took John's hand and decided to brush back but behind was another man. The first man struck a violent blow at Oliver's head, who fall down when the second took care of John. The two man put the children into the car boot and went away to a little house far in the wood, which belong to one of them. The passenger seem anxious on the way and told his friend :

-«Do you know what you are doing ? Imagine that something goes wrong and the parents called the police and we could be arrested, we did a big mistake.»

His friend looked at him with severe eyes and told him «Don't be afraid! All will well done and it is too late to go backward and think about all the money of the ranson we will make with it and shared. You know very well that you need that money to buy food and submit all the need of your wife who is pregnant.»

«Yes you're right » he said without conviction and replied «If the police caught us my child will not know his father and my wife will be alone to raise him.»

They arrived at their destination. The driver stopped the car and shouted loudly to his friend «Stop with all these bad ideas and help me to put them in the house » and said with a little voice « all will be well, their parents are movie players and don't like problems they will follow all the instructions left in the box mail.»

They put the children inside on a mattress on the floor, they placed water inside and locked the door with a key .

Thursday, October 10th 10:15am

It had been fifteen minutes that Oliver had wake up and gone to the door, trying to open it but the door was locked, he thought he had a chance with the only window of the room but they had blocked it with pieces of wood and leave spaces to let the sun come in. That made Oliver see where he was in this little room which had only two mattresses inside where his little brother was sleeping on one of them and he saw the water and he ran to drink a little.

A few minutes later John woke up and was afraid being in this house and told his brother «Why we are not at home and what are we doing here ? Mom and dad will search us ?» Oliver felt the fear in his brother's voice and although he was afraid too he said to him not to worry : «Mom and dad will come to bring us home.» he said all this to reassure himself.

The door opened and the two men entered. One of them said «We will not hurt you and you could be with your parents if they paid the ransom that we asked for.»

John shouted to the men «You'll have nothing ! Our parents will call the police that will arrest you both !»

Meanwhile the parents had taken the best team of police to search all the possibilities to find a clue and find their kids. They asked all the persons nearby but the last time they saw the kids were near the school.

Police cars were placed in all corners of the town to search the boys.

The time to make the exchange was fixed at 09:00pm in a secure place. The two men thought they will have their money and went away quickly. When they left the car with the boys they understood that the parents were not alone. Many policemen were pointing their guns on them. One of the men was very afraid he left the child and put his hands on his head to show the policemen he gave in.

Meanwhile the other man who had Oliver blocked began to walk away backward to his car. The policemen didn't let him do it. They fired and hurt him and he fell down. Oliver ran to his parents' arms where his brother John was already there. They were safe and they could go home thinking that their life would be never the same. The man who has surrendered go to jail and the other died of his woundes.

Several months later after their kidnapping the boys made very bad dreams about it but their parents were there to comfort them.

They lived the hell but they will always be there for one another.

End.